Open Your Eyes to VISUAL FREEDOM!

When your eyes were young, your natural lens was both transparent and flexible. Because of this, your vision was most likely stable until you reached your forties.

Around that time, you may have noticed that you had to hold a menu or a book farther and farther away to read it.

Many people end up wearing a pair of reading glasses or bifocals to compensate for this aging of the eye.

This condition is called "presbyopia" and eventually affects everyone, including those who are nearsighted, farsighted have cataracts, or had perfect vision most of their life.

ARE YOU OVER 45 AND READY TO SEE BETTER WITHOUT GLASSES?
IS RESTOR® A BETTER LENS THAN CRYSTALENS?
COME FIND OUT AT OUR INFORMATIONAL SEMINAR.
